Sunday Bands in the London Parks.

The London Star of July 19th says — Large audiences continue to teatify their approval of the bands chosen by the committee this season, brass instruments only being found powerful enough to fill so vast an area of persons. The numbers computed in the Regent's Park were upwards of 8,000; the programme centained selections from the best maters, interspersed with national medoires, the first part concluding with "Rule Bittannia," and the second with the mational anthem. The hopes of the committee to make the bands self-supporting have, it is said, this season been realized, and their continued success placed beyond doubt. During this season's performances, dignitaries of the church, metropolitan magistrates, and other influential gentlemes, have witnessed the good order which is so marked a characteristic of these Sunday evenings of the people, that not a single case for the interference of the police has occurred from the commencement, four years since. Frank Blair made a speech in St. Joseph a few days since. The Democrats tried to mob him, and prevent him from speaking, but failed in their dastardly attempt. These are the same Democrats who indulged in such rejoicings over the supposed victory of their brethren in Kansas, not long since. Democracy in Kansas and Missouri is essentially the same, and wretchedly pro-slavery in both. But the good leaven is at work in Missouri. Frank Blair is not to be mobbed down. He is to-day doing more for Missouri and the west than all the Democrats west of the Mississippi put together.—Lawrence Republican.

If the Journal undertakes to say that the people of St. Paul had not expected two thousand "Sons" from abroad, and had not made arrangements to accommodate that many, it either agent, many reasons conspired to render the dangers small. His fidelity to his engagements, we were perfectly assured, must be an act of enlightened truth. How happened it that the Railroad Companies had secured the services of five first-class steamboats, if required—each capable of earrying four to five hundred persons? The truth is, éverybody—the "Sons" included—supposed that the Order was going to turn out a vast multitude of excursionists, and in this respect the excursion certainly fell far below public anticipations.

Another Oshkosh Incendiary Caught.

Anothe The St. Joseph W. at, utterly unable to cope with the Free Democrat in argument, is again trying to arouse the people of that city to mod violence. Well, gentlemen, go ahead. You used to try that game in Kansas, but you never made anything by it. You used to try it all over the North, and you succeeded in making Abolitionists much faster than Garrison could. Try it on an Missouri. Every press you destroy will open the way for two more of the same sort. If you have a fancy for making Abolitionists, just go shead; you are on the right track decidedly. Missouri is bound to be free—mark that.

Rev. Prof. Bartlett of the Theological Semi-

At the request of one or two present, Rev. Dr. Patterson explained that the meeting had been called with a general purpose to devise some means if possible to bring about a better observance of the Sabbath. Not perhaps to propose specific measures but to seek to put an end to the running of Sunday conveyances, as a great means of desecration of the Lord's day. Rev. Mr. Spencer, of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, stated what had already been done in previous meetings in the appointment of Committees. The Committees had agreed with entire unanumity upon several points. forced into friendship with the French Emperor. To make a coalition of the whole continent against England complete, Prussis must be subdued first. When, then, an attack shall be nade, upon Prussin and England takes up arms to assist her, Protestantism and Romanism will be at war again in Europe, and such a war may turn out another 30 years strife. An entire change of the condition of Europe will be the final result of all this.

If this should happen, then, the position of Germany during the last 80 days war may be one of the principal causes that led to it. The instinct of the German people at the commencement of the principal causes that led to it. The instinct of the German people at the commencement of the present difficulties was a correct one. Now that Austria has been obliged to carry on the struggle sions, as a non-German power, it will beneeforth take a position as a non-German and exclusively Roman Catholic power.

Henry Squires before our public last evening, in a concert, given as part of the excellent bill at McVicker's theatre, was halled with enthusiasm, and to many music lovers brought pleasingly to mind the experiences of the opera season, made brilliant by Squires and his fellow artists on the lyric stage. Little Mary McVicker also made a decided and gratifying hit.

The concert having proved altogether so satisfactory, to the large audience, in response to a desire very generally and unmistakably expressed, it will be repeated this evening with some slight changes, although Mr. Squires thus foregoes appointments elsewhere, and notwithstanding another bill was announced for this evening. The attractions to-night our readers will appreciate. McVicker's season has opened brilliantly and auspiciously in thus collisting our music lovers by the fame and talents of Squires.

HATTE SATURDAY JULY 38 1980

It is within the recollection of most of our readers that Mr. Douglas made a speech at Egringdeld wherein he canonized the Missouri Compromise, and anathematised the rathless hand that ahould be reached forth to destroy it. It is within their recollection also, that a few, and but very few, years after he had thus delivered himself. he was ready to swear, as he did from every Pschape Mr. Douglas might say so himself.

Admit that he is; then the inquiry, "How long will be continue in this opinion? will be pschreint. Let us see what arguments may be made to take effect upon his judgment:

I. "Niggers have no rights which white dicture of Judge Tancy has time and time again received Mr. Douglas assent.

If niggers is America—converted, Christinaized, sanctified niggers—niggers plucked liked and others of his school of Atheism—have no nights, the African niggers who lie all day in rights, the African niggers who lie all day is teries of "election," "predestination," "sancti-fication" and "grace," can be nothing but so many black bundles of wrong. Right is not limited by degrees of latitude; hence, it being proved that the form and attributes of a man, accompanied by a colored skin, entitle their possessor to no rights in America, where all men are born free and equal, and where the Southside Gospel is presched, the sun-burnt

Southside Gospel is preached, the sun-burnt beathens across the sea are our legitimate and proper prey. Mr. Douglas will not, we believe, dispute this propesition, taking his own affirmations as the basis of argument. The niggers, then, are ours, if we want them.

If it is our duty to Christianize the African race. This is in accordance with the Divine consmand. The individuals of that race are sionaries cannot be sent; our shepherds all die in the attempt to gather these sheep into the fold. If they cannot go to Africa, Africans can be—nay, must be—brought here. The in-junction must be fulfilled. It cannot be that care of them; and we will do it in the relation which we believe to be moral and scriptural—the relation of master. It is frue the horrors of war and of the middle passage must be endured before we can get our hands on them; but the three who are doomed to death for every two that we rescue from everything partition must be leaked upon a strip. lasting perdition, must be looked upon as the they will be overworked, and poorly fed; that they will be cruelly whipped, and a few burn-ed at the stake; that their domestic relations will not be respected; that their wives will be torn from them, and their children sold; and that in their despair they will curse God and die. But these are minor evils which are incident to all great blessings. Better these than idleness, date-eating and heathen-ism. Our right to enslave these men is a necessary corollary of the right to steal them, which Judge Taney clearly establishes, and which we have assented to. Having stolen them and reduced them to the condition of

we have no copy-right, permitted to use our language in enforcing his views as soon as his announced. To-morrow we will endeavor to give him the political reasons, deduced from his arguments on the Kansas-Nebraska bill, why the trade should be re-opened without lelay, and why this glorious Union will b an act of justice to the patient and long-suffering South.

The Quincy Herald, a few days ago, contained an article upon the funding of the Mc Allister and Stebbins bonds, protessing to be a history of the whole affair, the point of which

Dr. Bellows, of the Church of All Sc Dr. Bellows, of the Church of All Souls, New York, is a very elequent, able and devot-ed min; and his proposition to form a new Catholic organization, retaining all that is im-pressive and beautiful, and eliminating all that ungodly, in the old, intolerant and supersti-tious communion, is a highly postical and an insamely impracticable idea. Churches, like posts, are here, not made. They are the outpoets, are born, not made. They are the outnal necessity, and cannot be the work of any single man. In these days, when the inclina-tion of men is toward the assertion of individ-ualism in all the relations of life—toward the of old organizations—a proposition like the Doctor's, which runs counter to the spirit of the age, must surely be lifeless. Nevertheless, we shall watch his efforts with no little curiosity, only because they so plainly mark the freedom as well as the radicalism of the Amer-ican mind. But if the Church is organized, we bespeak hats for three cardinals in the West, and the presence of a Nuncio in this wicked city of Chicago. Will our embryo Pope, of All-Souls, note our request in his episcopal tablets?

The Sunday Laws and the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

A case has been brought before Judge Thompson, in Philadelphia, charging the driver of a horse railroad car wift committing a breach of the peace in driving a car on Sunday. He was one of the ordinary drivers of that line, and it is admitted was at the time driving for hire for the company in the humans of court. and it is admitted was at the time driving for hire for the company, in the business of conveying passengers on and along the line of the company's road for the usual week day fare. It was claimed that the soise of the ear disturbed people who were attending church along the line. Evidence was heard without objection on both sides, upon the question of the alleged breach of the passes, and as to the noise made by those in the cars, and of the noise and disturbance made by the car itself. It appeared that cars had been run on and along his line the preceding Sunday, and several witnesses testified that it greatly disturbed the public worship in some of the churches along the line, as well as private citizens. On the other side it was claimed that the noise made by the car was only such as was incident to that mode of conveyance, and was not a disturbance to any inconvenient extent.

The Court said, the reviewing testimony: The question for determination now is, whether the prisoneris guilty of a present of the peace, or only the said of the peace, or only the peace of the

ove to the peace and best interests of this community.

The newspapers of Philadelphia are severely criticising this decision. They profess not to be able to see how the driving of a horse car is a breach of the peace, when driving a back or private carriage over the same street at the same time, would not be a violation of the old statute of 1794. The reason given by Judge Thompson for this distinction, that the hack would only be an instant in rattling by the church, while the car would pass every six minutes, strikes the car would pass every six minutes, strikes the Philadelphia editors with astonishment. One of the journals commenting on the fallacy of this

This acliphas educine with astonishment. One of the judge Thompson admits that a person driving a single vehicle commits no breach of the peace. Suppose private vehicles were to pass at the rate of one in every minute, which is quite possible, they would disturb the congressional Convention of that District went for a treach of the peace. If every person who was in ears containing twelve, employed a vehicle for himself, as the would have a right to do according to Judge Thompson, it would multiply the disturbance at less twelve times. Yet is most of these would be liable to prosecution for a breach of the peace. So far, therefore, from the public cars naving the tendency to break the peace, by disturbing congregations, it would greatly diminish the collective noise and disturbance in the streets to which every individual on his own hook might legally contribute, violating the penal statute. But would not the lriver of a back conveying any person to church for precreation, be violating the estatute, and would not a servant diving a family to church. or for recreation, be violating the statute, as would not a servant driving a family to chure on Sunday be pursuing his worldly calling, and be liable to a fine of $4? The Court says people in their devotions are to be protected from the moise of public cars passing through the streets. And are not the sick and dying equally in the court of the sick and dying equally in the court of the court arriages, or vociferous persons. But the Court eclared that, "il due not become in the right to arrest for any worldly business done on the Sabbath day,—unless in cases where the busi-ness done does actually disturb the peace of the neighborhood." This contains the gist of the neighborhood." This contains the gist of the whole Sunday question. The Judge admits that there is no such thing as legal sacredness of the first day of the week, called Sunday, but the first day of the week, called Sunday, but concedes that any man is as much at liberty to labor or recrease on that as any other day of the week—provided that he so comports himself as not to "disturb the peace of the neighborhood." The Supreme Court of California gave a de-cision not long since sustaining the same prin-

W. Roman and N. Pensoneau, of Belleville, to become interested with them in certain bonds said to be owned by the Mechanies' Bank and other parties of New York, in which P-nsoneau said he had a large interest, and requested me to examine their legal force and bearing as a claim against the State, the former furnishing me with some Legislative documents. The subject was entirely new to me and I made the investigation with the interest of novelty. S. M. Case, Esq., the law partner of the Hon. P. B. Pouke, assisted me. Mr. Fouke was also an assistant and officiously anxious in the premises. I read through the whole ing Review, in which the pithiness of his style added largely to the reputation schieved in the work which occasioned the quarrel. Tolla was followed in quick succession by three other novels, one of which, les Mariayes de Paris, had an extensive circulation in the United States. About a reputation of a more solid character as an observer. Fonke was also an assistant and officiously anxious in the premises. I read through the whole history of these bonds and of the State debt from the beginning down to the law of the same Legislature of which Dr. Roman was a member, the law of 1857, and his own explanatory resolution on this law. This resolution was explained by the Doctor as not applying and not intended to apply to the bonds in question, which were not held "by lien," in the language of the resolution, but, it was said, by innocent of the resolution, but, it was said, by innocent and remote purchasers who bought them in open market for their market value. Such was the construction put by the author himself upon open market for their market value. Such was the construction put by the author himself upon the resolution paraded by these newspapers.
Soon after the subject was brought to my attention, and by the advice of Dr. Roman, I requested Mr. Plato to give me his opinion on the obligations of the State in regard to the bonds.
I did so with the view of presenting them to the consideration of the Governor or of the Legislature as might be thought advisable, and I did

Mr. Plato This was more than a year ago. Mr. Plato did not investigate the question so as to be able to give me a matured opinion. His first impression, on reading the law of 1857 and the resolution, was against the feasibility of funding these bonds under the law. I told him the construction bonds under the law. I told him the construction put upon the resolution by the author Dr. Roman, and he promised to give the subject a thorough investigation, and give us, Pensoneau, Roman and myself, his opinion as a lawyer should we desire it. This opinion was never applied for again by me. Here the matter dropped, and this was the beginning and end of my connection with these bonds. I am certain that Mr. Plato had as little interest in them as I which was not to the amount of one cent. For a that Mr. Plate had as little interest in them as I which was not to the amount of one cent. For a year I have dismissed the subject from my mind. If talking with four Democrats on the subject of these bonds; if receiving a proposition to become interested with them in presenting them to the State government; if consulting a Republican member of the legal profession on their legal character, and if being consulted by me on the subject, constitute any moral turnjude, then that he apontaneously commenced his reign by conferring benefits, that his first acts held out the fairest hopes to Italy and to Europe, that he assures hopes to Italy and to Europe, that he has suffered the lingering torture of exile, that he exercises a precarious and dependent royalty under the protection of two foreign armies, and that he lives under the control of a Cardinal. But those who have fallen victims to the efforts to replace him on his throse, those whom the Austrians have at his request, shot and sabred, in order to reestablish his authority, and even those who telled in the playor stricken plains of the Roman Campagna to fill his treasury, are fined to replace the control of the Roman of Pint IX, is as man who tooks more than his actual age; he is ahort, lobes, somewhat pallid, and in preservous heads. with difficulty; he is a good priest, and an insufficient king.

The Romans formed an exaggerated opinion of him at his accession, and have done so ever since. In 1647, when he henesity manifested a desire to do good, they called him a great man, whereas in point of feat he was simply a worthy man who wished to act better than this predecessors had done, and thereby to win some applanes from Europe. In 1559 he passes for a violent reactionist, because vernts have discoursigned his good intentions; and above all, because Cardinal Antonelli, who masters him by fear, violently draws him backwards. I consider him as meriting neither past admiration nor present hatred. I pity him for having loosened the rein upon his people, without possessing the firmness requisits to reatrain them seasonably. I pity still more that infirmity of charsoier which how allows mère evil to be done in his name than he has seve himself done good. cal results, has a peculiar interest. M. About's enably. Now he is out of humor with his people, with

He stops his eyes and his surs, and prepares to

His latest work—La Question Romaine—is His latest work—Le Question Romaine—is undealably the best of his productions, combining the brilliancy of his wit with a profound consideration of the social, political and ecclesiastical affairs of the Papal States. While professing to be a Catholic, he probes the Roman sore to the bottom, and lays open the abacess with simply a French shrag of the shoulders and a lifting of the cychrows. He is no respecter of persons; Pius IX and Cardinal Antonelli are treated with the same grim impartiality as the thirty-one seedy princes of the Roman capital. M. About finished his work in private, and published it entire at Brussels. It had a rapid sale for a few days in Paris, when it was again suppressed by the government. This fact give additional/sest to its perusal in France and throughout Europe, and as a Paris correspondent observed, it proved that the Pope's Nuncio in stopping the spiggot had emphatically knocked out the bung. From the following extracts our readers will get some idea of the salient points in the Roman Question:

THE FOPE AS A SPIRITUAL OUTDE.

The Roman Catholic Church, which I sincerely respect, consists of one hundred and thirty-time millions of individuals—without counting little Morsara. It is governed by seventy Oardinals, or Frinces of the Church, in memory of the twelve Apostles. The Cardinal-Hishop of Rome, who is also designated by the name of Vicar of Jeans Christ, Holy Father, or Pope, is invested with boundless authority over the minds of these hundred and thirty-nine millions of Catholics. The Cardinals are nominated by the Pope; the Pope is nominated by the Cardinals are nominated by the Pope; the Pope is nominated to the pope in Pope is nomina

The absolute value of men in each cate burns Life are overgrown children, badly brought mp, and perversed in various ways by their education. The Government which, being in the midst of them, fears them, treats them midlly. It poes not teach them to read, neither does it forbit them to beg. It seeds Capuchins to their homes. The Capuchin gives the wife lottery-tickets, drinks with the husband, and brings the children up after his kind and sometimes in his likeness. The plebeians are certain never to die of hunger; if they have no bread they are allowed to help themsetives from the baker's basket; the law allows it. The only offences for which there is no pardon are the cry for liberty, revolt against an abuse, the assertion of manhood.

It is marveilous to me that with such an education there is any good left in them at all. The worst half of the people is that which dwells in the Monti district. If, in searching the Convent of the Neophytes, or the House of Larceria Borgia, you miss your way annong the foul narrow streets, you will find yourself in the midst of a strange medley of this was, sharpers, guitar players, artists' models, beggis, 'dicross; and market. If you speak to them you may be sure they will kins your Excellency's pocket. I don't think a worse breed is to be found in any city in Europe.' All these people practice religion without in the least believing in God.

Of all useful animals the wife is the one which the Roman peasant employs most profitably. It is vain to ask these country people what is their opinion of Home and the government; their idea of these matters is Infinitely vague and shadowy. The Government manifest itself to them in the person of an edhcial who, for the sum of three pounds sterling per month, sells justice among them. In return for the great benefit of his presence, they pay taxes on a tolerably extensive scale: ao much for the house, so much for the interaction of the house, so much for the interaction of the privilege of lighting a fire, so mach on the wine, so much for the mat—when they are able to enjoy that laxury. They grumble, though not very bitterly, regarding the taxes as a sort of periodical hallstorm falling on their year's harvest.

Last Wednesday morning, Thomas Ruple living three miles cast of Mishawaka, was shown the back, and narrowly eccaped death, the ball going through his body and coming out at his breast, barely missing his right lung. Frast the Mishawaka was shown to be connected with the case are as follows. Mr. Ruple, after several years absence in California, charged his wife, on his return, with crise. cos. With Abraham Harris, of Mishawaka, commencing suit against the latter. On the trial, the lury gave Ruple a verdiet of $5,000, for which Harris's property was levied on, but has not yet been sold, as it must bring two thirds of its appraised value which it has thur far failed to do, and the case has also been appealed to the Supreme Court.

On Wednesday morning, Erastus Wheeler, a nephew of Harris, told Ruple that his wife, who lives in a house on Harris's farm, wished a private interview with him to which he consented; and promised in half an hour to be at the place agreed upon, which was near an old orchard on Ruple's farm. And while leaning against the feuce, waiting for her, he was shot, as we have above stated, but did not see who fired upon him.

The following from the Mishawaka Extegraties will give some idea of the feeling that exists. "During, and after the examination, the excitement was intense, and crice of "a rope," string him up," "I ruch him," Ac, were heard from the crowd, which could not have been less than three hundred. years in one of the Southern States, low down on the Mississippi, the writer of this article feels warranted in saying, that but little reliance is to be placed upon any except what is denominated the "Whisty Cure." This has been the Southern remedy for the past twenty or thirty years.

seated, and in this way many valuable lives may be preserved.

Persons who have been bitten by rattlesnakes satually become excited, and their blood, if not already beated, it sure to be so very soon. In his way the poison intermingling with the blood circulates with surprising rapidity throughout the system. Active and powerful then must be the treatment in order to rescue the patient from immediate death. We have known persons to become blind within twenty minutes after they were bitten, and in such instances it required over a pint of injuor to relieve them. In no case where either whisky of Feach brandy has been administered before the patient was actually dying, did we ever know this remdy to fail.

Here in the North where poisonous reptiles are comparatively scarce, rattlesnake bites have been completely baffled, after resorting to all the remedies of the materia medica, and their patients given up to die. But there is no reason why the fang of a rattlesnake thould be unore fafal than the bite of a New lersey mosquite.
